

DALLE DE LE THOUR

Dalle de Thour is French limestone in soft shades of beige, cream, and light grey. It works in various rooms around the house—kitchens with long islands and tall cabinets, dining rooms set up for long dinners, and salons with linen sofas, timber tables, and low lighting. The stone sits quietly under joinery, rugs, art, and metalwork so the room feels put together without the floor competing for attention. The palette is calm enough to sit with plaster, oak, walnut, brass, black steel, or polished nickel.
