

TOSCANA TRAVERTINE

Toscana Travertine is a warm, earthy wall cladding stone featuring a mix of beige, cream, and soft tan hues with subtle variations and natural texturing. Its surface displays a porous, weathered texture characteristic of authentic travertine, adding depth and tactile richness. The stones are irregular in shape and size, arranged in an organic pattern that enhances their rustic Mediterranean charm. Flecks of light brown and occasional dark mineral deposits contribute to its natural, time-worn appearance, making it ideal for projects seeking an aged yet elegant aesthetic.
